Anons - I was here last night with my SNCO and received a lot of good questions. Here's a recap of your questions.
AMA.Political situation in the West:
>It is now 21 January 2029. President Mike Pence was inaugurated yesterday afternoon following Donald Trump's third and final consecutive term. I cannot tell you Pence's VP for reasons I can explain.
>The 22nd Amendmentis changed in 2023. Three terms is the new standard. Trump lobbies for this successfully given the DOJ corruption in 2016 and the 2020 sting.
> This is conjoined with term limits for legislators (24 years for senators and 30 years for congressmen).

>Trump defeats Romney/Yang in the 2024 election (Romney switches parties when the bottom falls out on the DNC in 2021-22). It's a good race. Trump wins handedly in the EC.
>Yang works with the Trump administration after the2026midterms.
>Jeffrey Skoll is the PM of Canada.
>Matthew Elliott is the PM of England.

Glad someone asked. Trump starts retweeting "Only Real UFOs" and other UFO videos from the internet in early 2022. In June 2022, he announces that the U.S. has seven operational flying saucers from an alien civilization. He claims these beings visit us every day (UFO videos and sightings become standard). The "global response" to this destabilizes things - but only temporarily. This revelation is used for the greater good by summer 2022. We have not yet "made contact" or seen an alien but most people take it for granted that they're here and they have benign intentions, if we have benign intentions. Some people still think it's all a lie.

Thanks for asking this. Romney and Yang are known. Pence's VP is "unknown" in 2020. It is not allowed to play around like this with unknowns. It's a gray area, for sure, but I'm using it to demonstrate and display the nature of this technology. Trump uses a three-pronged approach: political (state legislators) and legal (which itself has two prongs, official campaign at the tactical level and Powell discussion Dominion). But the final approach is counterintelligence. So he forces all three of these things together like a pimple ready to pop, rendering the legal avenue moot. State legislators vote for Trump because he reveals this was a military sting. Reactions to Trump's victory are as you would expect, and yes, there are riots, but they're handled effectively. They don't come out in the cold.

As far as I understand it, it requires engineering requirements like speed of light, etc. We're not there yet, even with the UAPs (or so the assumption goes). Technically, I am not traveling time right now either. Practically, I am, but it's more of an "imprint" on previous internet data.

I doubt the fabric of the universe works like Internet Archives.
Down to the quantum level ,there is no way to discern which "past" you are interacting with, or which future you are influencing.
God designed a system that endorses causality functions as the prime motivator.
IE: the Chaos(humanity) IS the motor for divergence / convergence...without it the universe quickly returns to homeostatic.
